

Section 9.1.4: Other State Systems

The State has other automated systems that are likely to have an interconnection in grants management, for the state as a grantee and/or state as a grantor. These include:

Human Resources Information System (HRIS). HRIS is the payroll system for state employees in Arizona. When state employees are paid with grant funds, grant program managers will need to work with the financial managers and their payroll processors in their respective agencies to ensure funding codes are established in HRIS.

ProcureAZ. Grant program managers who purchase goods and services will likely need to use the state procurement portal, ProcureAZ.

State Treasurer's Office: Information about the role of State Treasurer's Office as the state's banker can be found at <https://aztreasury.gov>.
